50 CENTS PER MONTH

AVERAGE FOR LEMONS IS $5.28

Season Has Been a Big One For the Villa Park Lemon Growers

ANNUAL MEETING HELD ON SATURDAY

Association Has 400 Acres of Trees Bearing, 300 Non-Bearing

VILLA PARK, Oct. 13.—This has been a great season for the lemon growers of Villa Park. Not another section in California got off so lightly in the frost of last winter, and consequently Villa Park lemons have been in great demand.

This was the report of Secretary Eastin to the Central Lemon Growers' Association at its annual meeting held at the packing house here last Saturday.

Eastin showed that for the year the average price received by the association for its lemons was $5.28 per box. And that was for Villa Park.

Eastin reported that the association now has about 100 members, and that it has an acreage of 400 in bearing and 300 additional not yet in bearing. When the new orchards begin to make their showing, the association will send to market no less than 500 cars annually.

Several addresses were delivered to the growers at the meeting Saturday.

"WHO'S WHO" IN SANTA ANA

Mrs. M. B. Asher Wins Five Dollar Prize For Familiarity With Advertisers

In the Register of Oct. 6, under the heading "Who's Who in Santa Ana" appeared twenty-three (23) advertisements. No name or address of any one of those advertisers was given; but the wording of each of the advertisements was designed to give a clue to the identity of the advertiser. An honorarium of $5.00 was offered for the first correct list of the twenty-three advertisers sent to this office.

The lists were numbered as received, and number fifteen (15), sent in by Mrs. M. B. Asher, 612 Bush street, Santa Ana, was the first and only correct list received.

A perfect flood of lists came in from all over the county, and some came from places outside the county. Most of the lists were correct as to a large majority of the advertisers, and a large number had only one wrong.

Here is the correct list:

1. Santa Ana Furniture Co.
2. Robertson & Packard, Electrical Wiring and Supplies.
3. H. Padgham & Son, Jewelers.
4. Crescent Hardware Co.
5. Miss Anna L. Mueller, Milliner.
6. Taylor Bros., Confectionery, Ice Cream and Lunches.
7. A. F. Herold, Motorcycles.
8. Geo. C. Post, Bicycles.
9. Crystal Cleaning Co.
10. West End Garage, Ford Autos.
11. E. Blumfield, Ladies' Tailor.
12. Hub Clothing Co.
13. Dr. J. J. Jacobs, Painless Dentist.
14. Alexandria, Pool Room and Cigars.

CHINO SECTION READY FOR ROAD

Committee Gets Promise, and It is Now up to Orange County

THREE MILES ONLY TO THE COUNTY LINE

Wassum and Brown Visited Chino Saturday and Talked It Over

There is every reason to believe that a good road will be built over the hills from Chino to Chino. The Chino people have given assurance that San Bernardino will build to the county line, and it is now up to Orange county.

About six weeks ago the Associated Chambers of Commerce appointed a committee to see if it was possible to get the road built. It was pointed out that residents of the Chino section wishing to come to any part of Orange county have to make a long detour. Several miles could be saved if a new road should be built.

W. T. Brown of Fullerton, who brought the matter up, and Howard Wassum of Tustin, two of the committee appointed by the Associated Chambers to see the project through, went to Chino last Saturday in company with several residents of Fullerton and Placentia.

At Chino they met Sam Pine, supervisor of that district, and representatives of the Chino Chamber of Commerce. The matter was presented, and the result was that the Chino supervisor gave the Orange county committee his assurance that the road would be built by San Bernardino county to the county line.

The next step to be taken by the committee is to get Orange county to build the line from the Olinda side. The committee is satisfied that there will be no trouble in getting the approval of the Board of Supervisors. William Schumacher, supervisor from the third district, in which the road lies, is a member of the committee, but was unable to go to Chino.

At present there is a rough foothill road leading over the hills from Olinda to Chino, impassable for automobiles and heavy loads. It is proposed to do some grading, making some cuts and some fills. The road can easily be made into a good automobile road. Orange county will have only about three miles of road to build to reach the county line, and the work will not be expensive.

The matter will probably be presented to the Board of Supervisors at its next meeting.

GUNMEN'S APPEAL WAS BEGUN TODAY

Rosenthal Slayers Ask Escape From Execution—Speedy Decisions Expected

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Arguments on appeal of ex-Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and his four Rosenthal gunmen from sentence of death, were begun today before the Court of Appeals. The arguments were to have been made some weeks ago, but the Sulzer impeachment proceedings at which the Court of Appeals judges sat as members of the impeachment court, made necessary the postponement until today. Speedy decisions in the Becker-gunmen cases are expected.

Should the court decide against the condemned men it seemed certain today that a further appeal would be taken to the United States Supreme Court. This would mean that the men convicted of the sensational killing of Gambler Rosenthal will not be executed for many months at least.

WILSON WARNS THE HUERTA GOVERNMENT

Says no Harm Must Result to Deputies Under Arrest—Upheaval in Mexico is Looked For WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—An early upheaval in Mexico as a result of President Huerta's coup in dissolving Congress is anticipated and is being predicted by Washington officials. Unofficial dispatches today declare the federal army is disheartened by the loss of Torreón, and that many of the soldiers may desert.

Secretary of State Bryan has returned from the South, and held a conference with President Wilson today.

After the conference between Wilson and Bryan, it was announced that telegrams from the White House had been dispatched to John Lind at Vera Cruz and Charge D'Affaires O'Shaughnessy at Mexico City, instructing them to make representations to the Huerta government that America will regard with displeasure any injury to Mexican members of the House of Deputies recently placed under arrest.

It was left to Envoy Lind's discretion as to whether he would personally go to the Mexican capital to impress his views on the Huerta government, but O'Shaughnessy was directed to address himself to the minister of foreign relations, and was instructed to say that "America attaches the gravest importance" to the fate of the deputies under arrest.

President Wilson told callers that under the present state of affairs he does not see how a constitutional election can be held in Mexico. He made it plain, however, that there would be no departure from his former Mexican policy. No plans were announced for increasing the number of American warships in Mexican waters.

HUERTA SEEMS TO HAVE SITUATION IN HIS GRASP
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13.—It is the general opinion here that there will be no upheaval as a result of President Huerta's arrest of all members of the Chamber of Deputies except those of the Catholic party. It is believed that if trouble were brewing it would have resulted at once. The imprisonment of the deputies apparently occasioned little surprise, as the public was prepared for a similar move prior to the election. The only fear the Huerta party has is that foreign diplomats will call for an explanation.

That Senator Dominguez, who disappeared after attacking Huerta's policy in the upper house, and into whose case the imprisoned deputies were inquiring when they were arrested, has been killed is little doubted. Rumors that three deputies have been shot are discredited. The army appears to be loyal to Huerta. Apparent confirmation has been received here of the report that Felix Diaz will remain in Havana, and Porfirio Diaz in Spain. Huerta seems to have the situation here entirely within his own grasp.

PIONEER'S FUNERAL HELD AT ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Oct. 13.—The funeral of Mrs. Clementine Lanbenberger occurred Saturday at the Catholic church. She was the last member of that hardy band of pioneers who founded the "Mother Colony" more than half a century ago. The body was brought here Friday morning from San Francisco, where she had been enjoying a visit with her son, Gus Lanbenberger, and who there died suddenly from heart failure.

Robert McAuley of this city has just been received by the Presbytery as a student for the gospel ministry. He is in the second year at Occidental College and promises to become one of the brainy young ministers of the Southland. McAuley spent his boyhood days in Anaheim and was a general favorite among his fellow students and instructors. He is teaching night school at the Olive street school in Los Angeles, having secured thirty-ninth place out of 500 applicants for teaching in that city. Three years ago he graduated from the Anaheim High School.

By constantly pounding and hammering the Army and Navy line, Santa Ana wore down the cadets and scored two touchdowns by the use of forward passes. The Santa Ana team departed from straight football on only a few occasions, when forward passes were tried. In two instances only by the excellent work of Walters and Robinson, this delicate play was successful, and each time was directly responsible for a touchdown.

The game was played at San Diego Saturday; score, 14 to 0.

Time and again the maroon back tried to go through the Southerners' line, but they seemed to lack "pep" and the old-time charging spirit was not shown. Consequently the line plunging gains were small. The game, which was loose and slow, did not show good team work. It was plainly seen that a great improvement will have to be made in the eleven or it will be up against it next Saturday.

Only once in the first two quarters was Santa Ana able to penetrate close enough to the opponents' goal to cause them worry. But for a mistake by the time-keeper after six minutes had been played in the second period the Santa Ana squad would have scored. As it was time was called with the ball resting on the cadets' five-yard line. Both quarters of the first half should have been twelve minutes each, whereas they were limited to six minutes each.

The Touchdowns
After the Santa Ana team got started it was never stopped. A long forward pass for thirty yards worked by "Spud" Morrison and Walters upset the cadets and they were swiftly forced back until they stood in the shadow of their own goal posts. Dutch Holzgrafe plunged two yards over the line for the first touchdown. Little "Spud" kicked goal.

The second touchdown started when Santa Ana carried the ball to the 25-yard line where Quarter Morrison tried for a place kick. The kick was cleverly blocked and Burkett, who relieved Walters at right end, recovered the ball. From this point Robinson slammed the line for 8 yards while Holzgrafe and Morrison pushed it to the five yard line. Santa Ana lost the ball on downs and the cadets punted out of danger.

Santa Ana came right back at them and on the 15-yard line Morrison worked the forward pass over the line to Robinson, scoring the second touchdown. Morrison kicked goal.

After scoring the second touchdown Santa Ana made a good bid for a large score, but time was called

SUPREME COURT OPENS FALL TERM

United States Supreme Court Justices Meet With Pomp and Judicial Dignity

GREETINGS EXTENDED BY ATTY.-GEN. McREYNOLDS

Court Adjourned For Visit to White House—Decisions to Be Given Out Oct. 20

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—With all the pomp and judicial dignity of precedent, the Supreme Court of the United States today met promptly at noon for the October term. In accordance with tradition which decrees that the court shall conduct no judicial business on the first day, the session was brief. Following the ceremonies and presentation of Solicitor General Davis by Attorney General McReynolds the justices repaired to the White House and were greeted by President Wilson.

Chief Justice White led the associate justices garbed in their long black silk robes into the chamber promptly on the minute of 12 o'clock today. The justices marched in the order of their service on the highest bench as follows: Justices McReynolds, Holmes, Day, Lurton, Hughes, Van Devanter, Lamar and Pitney. A respectful hush overspread the chamber as the procession entered and all arose and remained standing until the court ascended the bench. At a given signal from Chief Justice White, spectators and court officers, including the attorney general, were seated and the session began. Following the solicitor general's presentation, the court adjourned for the visit to the White House.

Following ancient custom, Chief Justice White was the first to enter the executive mansion and grasp the President's hand. Seniority is one of the strict rules of the highest judicial body. The chief justice chatted for a moment with the President and passed on Justice McKenna followed and the remaining justices were formally greeted by the chief executive. The more formal greeting preceded an informal exchange of pleasantries between President Wilson and his visitors before the latter returned to the capitol where work incident to disposing of the heavy October term docket was immediately begun.

The court will meet again tomorrow to hear arguments on the most advanced cases on the docket. A large list of these have been set forward. The first decisions of the October term will be handed down on Monday, October 20.

CONTRACT LET FOR LIBRARY

Long Beach Man to Build Huntington Beach Structure for $7,770

Beach City Has Many Improvement Plans Under Way

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 13.—The contract for building the Carnegie library here was awarded Saturday evening at a special meeting of the city trustees to W. D. Lambert of Long Beach, the lowest responsible bidder, for the sum of $7,770. Deducting the fees of Architect Hopkins of Los Angeles, this will leave nearly $7,500 towards furnishing the building. There were seven bidders. Contractor Lambert promises to begin the work during the present week and to complete the building in February.

The city trustees have decided to pave Fifth, Sixth, Eighth and Ninth in this city, except that on Main and Geneva streets under specifications which will require a better grade of street. They have also decided to call separate bond elections for a sewer system, added fire equipment and the paving of that portion of Ocean avenue which will be a part of the proposed coast boulevard. This is to be done so that voters favoring one of the plans but opposing others will not vote to defeat the entire plan. A remarkable showing in the growing of apples has been made this season by W. S. Hill on his ranch near this city where his crop is not only large but is of the very finest quality. His success demonstrates that apples can be grown on the Huntington Beach mesa rivaling in quality those grown at Watsonville in Northern California.

LIST OF DEAD INCREASED BY ONE

Volturno's Loss Now Reported As 136—Rescue Ship Carmania Arrives

CARRIES ONE PASSENGER; OTHERS CARRYING MANY

Details of Disaster Being Given by Wireless—Those in Life Boats Believed Lost

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Off the Nantucket lightship, with one hundred and three survivors of the Volturno disaster, Captain Spangerberg of the liner Grosser Kurfurst today began sending a wireless description of the wreck to the North German Lloyds this morning. The Kurfurst was the first ship after the Cunarder Carmania to reach the Volturno. In Capt. Spangerberg's account were several conflicts in figures, due possibly to wireless errors. He said:

"I received the first wireless calls for help at 4 p. m. Thursday." This was ten hours after the fire broke out and four hours after the Carmania had reached the Volturno. "Coming up I found the Volturno burning from stem to stern. The fire began with a heavy explosion on the bow, resulting in the death of several passengers and crew. Eleven steamships arrived at the scene. Other accounts said ten.

The account continued: "A heavy north by northwest storm was raging. Two of our boats tried from midnight to 3 a. m. to reach the burning boat during the night. They picked up thirty-three survivors, and at daybreak sixty-eight more. The total saved by all the ships was 523. 100 are missing. We resumed our voyage, as others were searching for the missing boats. The wreck is drifting and is a menace to navigation."

Rescue Ships Reach Port
FISHGUARD, England, Oct. 13.—The Cunarder Carmania with many of the passengers and members of the crew of the burned liner Volturno has arrived here. The Minneapolis, with more Volturno survivors, is expected in London tomorrow, the Devonian arriving at Liverpool at the same time. According to the latest wireless messages, four of the Volturno's boats that were smashed against the side of the burning ship, were crowded with members of the crew and men passengers, women and children being hustled aside.

The Cunarder Carmania discharged her passengers here, and then continued to Liverpool. Captain Barr refused to make a statement regarding the Volturno wreck, saying he has said all he intends to until he makes a formal report supplementing the wireless statement already made to the Cunard company. He fails to explain why the Carmania brought but one survivor, Walter Trintepohl, picked up while swimming, while the other rescue ships carry many survivors. The matter is causing much speculation here.

"I have slept but little since Thursday morning," Capt. Barr said. "I was on the bridge constantly for twenty-four hours. I am too tired to talk."

According to Arthur Spurgeon, a Carmania passenger who saw the fire, and who subsequently talked to Trintepohl, one-seventh of the Volturno's passengers and crew perished when the first and second boats dashed against the ship sides after they were lowered. During the twenty hours that the Carmania stood by, no one aboard the Cunarder slept, remaining on deck in spite of the storm, shouting encouragement to those aboard the Volturno. Spurgeon reiterated the statement that Captain Inch was the last to leave the burning ship.

No Survivors Found
PLYMOUTH, England, Oct. 13.—The Kronprinzessin Cecilie arrived here today after a long and fruitless search for the survivors reported to have escaped from the Volturno in boats.

Volturno's Hulk Afloat
LONDON, Oct. 13.—Wireless messages from ships at sea report that the burned Volturno's hulk, instead of sinking in the waves as reported, is still floating, menacing navigation. The Admiralty has ordered the cruiser Donegal to seek the Volturno's wreck and destroy it. A general estimate today is that 136 is the correct number of victims. Conflicting wireless reports however, indicate that there may be a dozen more. If it is true as reported that forty of the crew got away in boats it is almost certain the boats were swamped and the occupants drowned. Several liners are searching but none of them report signs of survivors.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON

Preached by Rev. Fred Staff, pastor of the First Congregational church on Sunday morning, Oct. 12, 1913, at the Congregational church.

Common Sense Religion for Common Sense Men

We like to read the records of remarkable conversions. They are interesting both psychologically and historically, as the story of any unusual event is interesting; but more than that, they are valuable because they furnish real human evidence of the transforming power of faith in the gospel of Jesus Christ. In this age of conscious and unconscious pragmatism, when men like to test theories by their effects on life, there is nothing that so convinces a man that the gospel is "the power of God unto salvation" as a sudden and strikingly possible change in a man's viewpoint and manner of living. The story of the conversion of the Apostle Paul is, therefore, one of the most frequently quoted portions of the New Testament. If you know anything at all about the Pharisaic mind, the Pharisaic attitude toward God and the world, the grip of dead Pharisaic hands on the tradition bound formalism of a religious system steeped in hypocrisy, you must realize that something unusual happened to Paul as he way to Damascus. Men like him do not change their minds easily.

Power was needed to transform him as he was transformed from an ardent and conscientious persecutor of Christians to one who gloried in being himself among those persecuted, and who was willing to become himself accused if thereby he might bring his brethren in the flesh to know and love the Christ whose spirit he mastered him.

Paul's expression, remarkable as it was, can be matched in modern times. There is hardly a Christian worker of even limited experience who has not at some time witnessed transformations similar in effect to that which Paul expressed. What stories of sin and salvation, degradation and redemption, the late General Booth might have told if he had cared to write a nineteenth century "Book of Acts." Harold Begbie did publish such a book a few years ago and he called it Twice Born Men. The book is a recital of extraordinary conversions—conversions of men who needed not only a mental revolution, as Paul did, but a new physical upbuilding, a rebirth of bodies as well as of souls, a renewal of muscle and nerve weakened by vice, the uprooting of appetites and the overcoming of habits that held them bound in apparently unbreakable chains.

I myself have heard stories similar to those found in Begbie's book told by living men whose veracity could be proved by the testimony of neighbors and by their own manner of living. I have seen thieves become honest. I have seen men from whose lips profanity and impurity of speech poured like filth from the mouth of a big city sewer become reverent, prayerful and clean. I have seen drunkards whose appetites defied the modern gold cure stop drinking as suddenly as Paul stopped persecuting, their whole nature, physical and moral, having been revolutionized by a new spiritual experience.

Now these conspicuous examples of sudden and thoroughgoing conversion have an evidential value that cannot be ignored and should not be minimized. It is possible, however, to overemphasize these unusual experiences by making them seem the normal and regular type of conversion instead of the exceptional. Such overemphasis is mischievous because it has a tendency to make earnest and sincere followers of Jesus, who have not passed through a similar spiritual cataclysm, doubt the reality of their own spiritual life. They are mischievous also because they have a tendency to make men postpone their conversion until they shall be swept into the Kingdom by an involuntary religious upheaval. I have heard men tell the story of an unusual experience in such a way as to make those whose memories contained nothing equal to it feel that they had no right to call themselves Christians, however vital their faith and sincere their life might be. This is not what the Apostle Paul did. He told the story of his own conversion and regarded the memory of it as his most precious possession, but he was always big-minded enough to keep from the error of making his own remarkable experience typical of what all men must pass through in order to become Christians. He never tried to squeeze other men's souls into the peculiar mould of his own.

Paul also remembered a day of ecstatic visions. Whether in the body or out of the body he could not tell; but he was caught up into paradise and heard unspeakable words which it is not lawful for man to utter. Yet, so far from making of this ecstatic rapture a form of Christian experience in general, as smaller minds would have done, he almost apologized for telling it, implying clearly that he regarded it as unusual and frankly admitting that he would be a fool if he gloried in it.

In the year 1870 Horace Bushnell wrote to his wife: "I have had some delightful times and passages since I came here, such as I never had before. I never so saw God, never had Him come so broadly and clearly out. He has not spoken to me. There has been nothing debatable to speak about, but an infinite easiness and presentation of thought as it were by direct revelation. O, my God! What a fact to possess thee thus and know that thou art without the need of outside testimony. The question has not been how I could get nearer to God. He has just Himself come near enough and left nothing for me but to stand still and see His salvation."

I am glad Bushnell recorded this experience. I should like to feel as he did when he wrote that letter. But I shall know whether I am a Christian or not by my own purpose and aim, by the deepest desires and longings of my heart and by the attitude of my soul towards my God and my fellow men.

Jesus picked His disciples one after another, saying unto them, "Follow me." Their discipleship began when they left their former associations and followed him. So far as the records go there was neither excitement nor amazing beatific visions. There was just a definite call and an equally definite response by an act of the will. Such a call is always given to us and such a response we are always able to make. The experience of John and James and Matthew is probably much more typical of the average man's conversion than is the experience of Paul, and we do men an injustice when we judge them or cause them to judge themselves by the remarkable and unusual.

Let us hear what Jesus himself has to say concerning the test of discipleship. I acknowledge no authority superior to his.

"...every shall all men know that ye are my disciples if ye love one another."

He that hath my commandments and keepeth them he it is that loveth me, and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father and I will love him and will manifest myself unto him."

"If you continue in my word then are ye my disciples indeed."

"Come ye blessed of my Father for I was an hungry and ye gave me meat, and inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me."

In these and many similar sayings we get Christ's own marks of discipleship: Love, loyalty to him, obedience and service. He who has not these marks is not a Christian, whatever startling experiences he may have had. He who has these marks is a Christian even if there is nothing startling in his memory to mark the date and hour of his conversion. Enthusiasms, raptures, ecstasies and spiritual cataclysms may have their evidential value, but love, loyalty to the Master, obedience and service are the real tests. These tests may be understood and experienced not only by the exceptionally profound thinkers, philosophers or mystics, nor by the unusually emotional and excitable but plain everyday men and women such as we are. That is why I call Christianity a common sense religion for common sense men. It appeals to the unschooled fisherman as well as to the intellectual giant from Tarsus, to the mystic Mary as well as to the sinsteeped Magdalene, to the outcast tax-gatherer as well as to the revered rabbi.

And however different their to-morrow life may have been, and how or where the beginning of their discipleship, and their subsequent religious experiences, the ultimate test is the same for all: Love, loyalty, obedience and service.

FORMER OLINDA BOY TURNS DOWN $15,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Walter Johnson has turned down a theatrical engagement which would have netted him $15,000 in ten weeks. He was made a proposition by the agent of a booking firm to do a monologue turn on a vaudeville circuit at $1500 per week, and a ten-week contract. Johnson did not as much as give the matter consideration, but turned it down flat, much to the surprise of the agent, who argued that it was easy money.

An Johnson was to have done was to speak about "115 words, which would have been written for him, but he does not kindly take to anything that savors of the limelight, so he refused.

FLORIDA HAS NEW GREEN FRUIT LAW

Standard Established for Shipments of Citrus Fruit
From State

Florida citrus shipments this year will be controlled by a green fruit law, passed by the legislature last June and now in effect. The law was the result of renewed agitation for an immature fruit law. It provides a standard by which citrus fruit may be shipped to market and this standard is the same as was set up by the three different fruit growers' conventions held for that purpose. The bill was enacted last June. It provides that no citrus fruit shall be shipped before Nov. 5, unless it can be shown a content of acid not in excess of 1.30 for oranges, and 1.75 for grapefruit. After Nov. 5, there is no restriction except that fruit must show one-half color on the trees, but will require no acid test. The inference is that after that date the fruit will be ripe enough for shipment.

Last August, at a meeting of citrus growers at Gainesville the standard for oranges set by the convention and which the Agricultural Department attempted to enforce, but without strict legal authority, was 1.25 for oranges, and no standard for grapefruit, the only restriction being made that no fruit should move before Oct. 1.

The Florida Citrus Exchange, and also some independent growers, were the principal factors in securing the passage of the new law. The growers in opposition to the law were those who owned groves in the southern counties of the state, who claim that their fruit colors and matures much earlier than fruit in the central and northern portion.

The new immature fruit law of Florida carried an appropriation of $2500 for the payment of the salaries and expenses of four inspectors who were appointed by W. A. McRae, commissioner of agriculture.

SOUTH CARRIES OFF APPLE PRIZES

San Diego, San Bernardino
and Inyo Counties Capture
Score of Ribbons

WATSONVILLE, Oct. 11.—Southern California apples have carried away nearly a score of blue and red ribbons in the Fourth California Apple Show, which ends here today.

On the contest among the districts outside of Santa Cruz and Monterey county the Julian district of San Diego county was awarded first prize today for the splendid display of fifty-two boxes of delicious King David,
Jack Ben Davis and Jonathan apples.

San Diego had also one of the most striking of the feature exhibits, an architectural copy built almost entirely with apples, of the Mission tower, which rises over the main building of the Panama-California Exposition. It has attracted much attention and many compliments. More than a hundred boxes of apples were used in its construction. The pinnacle of the tower reaches up twenty feet, almost to the roof of the exhibit pavilion.

Banked around its base are the white, scarlet and golden apples which gave
San Diego first district prize.

Arthur E. Juch of Julian superintended the building and placing of the San Diego exhibit. The Julian district also won the award for the biggest apple in the show. It is from the ranch of B. F. Miller of Julian.
Eight blue ribbons were taken by San Diego.

Inyo county has a pretty display of its apple products from the Owens River Valley. They are shown by Van Bokkelen Brothers, whose ranch is at Bishop. A blue ribbon was won in every class entered by their apples. They were mostly plate displays of Jonathans, Winesaps, Pear-mains, Roman Beauties, Canada Reds, Greenings and California Nuggets.

Ribbons were won by a display of fine apple products from the Victor Valley in San Bernardino county. On their plates are Bellefours, Arkansas
Black and other Southern California varieties.

The following inventors were just in-sued to California patents, re. ap. 13

THE HUMAN PRICE OF COAL

It often takes some single dramatic experience to awaken public interest in a good cause. The fact that for the first seven months of 1913, 1437 people were killed in coal mine accidents in the United States, an increase over the previous year, is characterized by the forbidding word "statistics." It doesn't interest people much.

Meanwhile the graphic story of Thomas Tushesky, imprisoned eight days or more, by a fall of coal in a mine near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., gets front page newspaper position. Perhaps it may arouse some people to a sense of the price in human suffering paid for winter comfort and for industrial fuel.

A year or two ago it was confidently announced that "Safety First" had become a general slogan in the mine fields. The West Virginia inspector of mines declared that, through wetting and using the safe explosives, there hadn't been a fatal mine explosion in that state for seventeen months. But the figures quoted above show that the safety campaign has hardly got started yet.

For black horror no picture can exceed that of the crowd of sobbing women around a mine entrance after a disaster. People who are not easily moved by humanitarian considerations will at least reflect on the cost of explosions and other accidents.

When this dark hive of subterranean industry is turned into a chaotic labyrinth of fallen walls and roofs, dead men and mules, wrecked cars and machinery, the bill falls not on the mine owner. Eventually it comes on the industry or the home that uses the fuel.

Oxygen helmets, selected explosives, etc., greatly reduce the accident hazard. Curiously enough, a rescuing party is far safer if it carries along some caged canary birds, who show first the effects of deadly gas. Surely every consideration of human sympathy and of business economy urges the adoption of all possible safety devices in this great industry.

The Political Watchtower

It is about time for the Watchman to take up his field glasses and look the county over again.

True, there does not seem to be much doing politically. At least, what is being done is on the quiet. There may be a good many ambitious ones who have made up their minds to run for county offices next year, but who think it would be ill advised to open up their batteries at this time, long in advance of the real battles.

The plural is used advisedly. Of course, for the unusually strong and lucky candidates there will be but one battle, and that at the primaries. Under the new election law a candidate receiving the majority vote is elected then and there. All he has to do after the primaries, until after the general election, is to mark time and smile.

But the primaries will be only the beginning for those who may be unable to score a majority vote thereat. The two candidates securing the highest votes, neither having a majority, must face each other for the election.

It is generally conceded that some of the county offices are going to have it all decided in the primaries. That will necessarily be true if there are only two candidates running, unless there be a tie. But some of them will take two battles. For instance, there is no question among the politicians but that the man who is elected sheriff will have two fights to make, one at the primaries and one at the general election. It can hardly be otherwise with no less than three strong, popular men running.

And there will be at least three for that office, possibly four. Sheriff Ruddle does not hesitate a minute about saying he is going to run. He believes his record as sheriff entitles him to another term, and he is going after it hot and heavy.

Howard Wassum is counted on as certain to run. A good many Democrats have it doped out that Constable C. E. Jackson is their man. There was some talk that Theo. Lacy, that old war-horse, would again run for sheriff, but Lacy declares that he has a good lively business and he expects to keep it good by staying with it.

Then there is a strong possibility that City Marshal Jernigan will get into the game.

Ruddle, Wassum, Jackson, Jernigan—how is a Watchman going to be able to say that any one of a quartet like that is going to get a majority vote at the primaries?

A week or two ago someone started a story that County Clerk Williams was not going to run for re-election. That groundless talk came pretty near starting two or three campaigns. There are several willing ones who would like to take a chance at the clerkship if they did not have to face Williams.

The talk got so far that a few of the Democratic leaders got together and one of them said he would run for county clerk, "if Bry Williams doesn't run."

It was just as well that the campaign was not started on that premises, for Williams is going to run.

Whoever started the talk had the wrong dope. Williams has had no other idea than that he was going to run. The Watchman asked him about it a day or two ago. It was a direct question, and a direct answer was received.

"Are you going to be a candidate for re-election?" was asked of the county clerk.

"I am," replied he. "I am not only going to be but I am now."

That is plain enough.

Along with the talk of W. B. Williams' expectations to run again, is the general understanding or expectation among politicians that Attorney R. Y. Williams, brother of the clerk, is going to be a candidate for superior judge.

That seems to be the expectation and everybody knows that if R. Y. does run he will make a run for your life. So far as the Watchman is able to learn, R. Y. has not stated just what he is going to do. He has a mighty good law practice, but there is no question but that the honors of the bench have an appeal with most attorneys that even a good practice cannot offset.

Of course Judge West and Judge Thomas will be candidates to succeed themselves, and whoever runs against either of them will have to do some running if he gets anywhere.

Some of the Democrats are stirring up post office troubles. The Democrats began on post offices early.

Congressman Kettner was not yet a congressman before things began to line up. Months ago the Democratic central committee had two or three meetings and gave its endorsement to various candidates for the post office jobs at Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Huntington Beach.

C. D. Overshiner at Santa Ana and James Fullerton at Orange seem to have plain sailing ahead. At least no rocks have been sighted.

But things are getting into a mess at Huntington Beach and Anaheim. Getting into a mess, did we say? Not so. The mess has already arrived. Behold, it is there.

Over at Anaheim, Fred Ahlborn—whose name is J. Fred Ahlborn when he signs it officially—got the endorsement handed out by the local followers of Woodrow Wilson and William Kettner.

Postmaster Duckworth, for years a leader of the Republican party at Anaheim, does not intend to step down and out if he can help it. His fight is made on the ground that he supported Wilson and Kettner during the last campaign. He is an anti-Roosevelter.

There has been some talk around that Kettner is under obligations to Duckworth. May be so, but the Democrats are not at all satisfied to think so. The Mother Colony people recognize that there was a battle royal on, and while Ahlborn and Duckworth seemed to be leading, there was a chance for a dark horse.

at Anaheim, desires to be that dark horse, and he is right on the job trying to make others equally as desirous of his desires.

Then another campaigner, one who has had experience in appointments, has made herself known. So far as known she is the only woman out for an appointment for any of the principal post office jobs. She is Mrs. Gardner.

Mrs. Gardner was postmistress at Anaheim under President Cleveland, succeeding her husband, who died while in office. Mrs. Gardner is a relative of Mrs. Victor Montgomery of Santa Ana.

Huntington Beach is torn up over the post office. De Lapp got the endorsement of the central committee by one vote, defeating Wettlin. Wettlin has since moved away, but that has not left the field clear to De Lapp, not by a long shot.

Louis Paul Hart, editor of the Huntington Beach News, who carried the Democratic banner in the race for state senator a year ago, has delivered a number of body blows upon the anatomy of the Republican postmaster, Clippinger, and there has been considerable talk of taking steps to end Clippinger's term before his time is up.

On top of everything else that worried the aspirants at the beach city, comes Editor Hart with the announcement that he would take the appointment. He had not wanted it, but the income is greater than he had thought.

Hart is reputed to be pretty close to Kettner, and there is no question but that Hart did everything he could for Kettner when the latter was out over the county seeking votes. So Hart's hat, having been thrown into the ring, looks like considerable of a hat.

Kettner is going to be here in November.

He has asked the Democrats to let Anaheim and Huntington Beach rest until he comes. He is going to pour oil on the troubled waters and see if quiet cannot be made to reign.

Kettner is said to be a master hand as a manipulator, and possibly he can do something that will make everybody feel happy.

Anaheim will be the first job open. Duckworth's term ends the first of next year, and that is not far off. What Kettner says about that job will undoubtedly go.

It will be another year before the post office terms at Santa Ana and Orange post offices reach their end. Between now and then Kettner will have to run for re-election, which he will do, and should he be defeated there will be new troubles for those who want the post offices.

Fullerton has kept her peace. While Democrats of other cities of the county have been worrying over postoffices, the Democrats of Fullerton have said nothing. Postmaster Edwards of that city, a Republican, got his appointment a few months before the administration changed, and it will be a long time before his four years are up.

Congressman Kettner has made it known that he would like to have two or three women appointed to important post office jobs in this county. That being the case, it would appear that the running would be good for some Fullerton woman. It seems that the central committee made its endorsements for Santa Ana, Fullerton, Anaheim and Huntington Beach before Kettner's desire concerning the women was known.

In passing, it should be noted that a woman won the congressman's recommendation for the post office at El Modena. That office is under civil service, and information here is to the effect that of those who took the examinations Kettner had the choice of three. From the three, last Saturday, he sent to President Wilson a recommendation that Mamie C. Rowland be appointed.

YEAR'S WORK OUTLINED

Fifth Section of Household Economics Had Fine Meet, Received Programs

The Fifth Section of Household Economics met last Friday afternoon with Mrs. E. R. Majors, 307 Main street. The meeting was very well attended. The subject for the afternoon was "Germs and Plasmids in Food." Miss Eula May gave a very interesting reading on the subject. The program for the year's work was read and accepted by the members. The committee in charge was Mrs. F. H. McElree, leader, Mrs. Howard Wassum, Mrs. Will Decker and Miss Josephine Tiede.

Refreshments were served consisting of plum pudding, whipped cream and coffee. The plum pudding was given by Mrs. McElree and was one of her own recipes. Each guest was given a card containing a hand painted cranberry and a copy of the pudding recipe done by Miss May. The table and parlor decorations were yellow sunflowers and cranberry. The committee on entertaining included Mesdames McElree, Majors, B. P. Nimmo, Frank Miller and Eula May.

The program for this section for the season of 1913-14, from October to October, given below, indicates the scope of work undertaken:

October—Food value of nuts; fruits as food and medicine; Importance of method of cooking vegetables; See "Health Through Rational Diet."

ARMY AND NAVY CADETS TOAST FOOTBALL VICTORS

The Santa Ana football team was handsomely entertained in San Diego last Saturday evening, the hosts of the occasion being the members of the Army and Navy Cadet team, whom the Santa Anas had defeated at football in the afternoon.

With splendid spirit, the defeated men showed genuine hospitality by giving a six-course banquet at the U. S. Grant Hotel. Everything was of the best and served in royal fashion. Good fellowship existed, and it is certain that the Army and Navy men won a warm place in the admiration and feelings of the Santa Ana players by their courtesy.

Coach Waddell of the Cadets was toastmaster and many warm sentiments were proposed and responded to. In the course of the after-dinner hour, the Santa Ana men responding were Coach Ratcliffe, "Bill" Warren and Harold Holzgrafe.

The event will long linger as a pleasant memory of the Santa Anas, and when opportunity presents, the courtesy will doubtless be reciprocated.

Importance of daily program and time budget. See Good Housekeeping, August 1913, pages 242-249. Menu for Christmas dinner.

January, 1914—Economy in food; What is true economy; Importance of knowledge of food and price. See Good Housekeeping, Aug. 1913, page 256. Menu, dinner of left-overs.

February—Nutritive value of fish; What to combine with fish to make it a well balanced food; Oysters, how and when to serve, what to serve with them; Good and evil effects of oysters as food, their value to the convalescent. Menu, fish dinner.

March—Laundry work done at home; Former methods and newer methods; Work sent away; public laundries, sanitary or not; (discussion); flow to reduce size of family wash; Short-cuts in laundry work; Laundry helps. Menu, Washday dinner.

AN AUTUMN WEDDING

Native Born Daughter Wedded to Young Business Man of West Anaheim

A charming wedding was celebrated last Thursday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when Miss Alma Gerken, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gerken, was united in marriage to Henry Cordes of West Anaheim. The autumn nuptials took place in the German Lutheran church, which had been most artistically decorated in pink, white and green. From an archway of asparagus ferns were suspended three wedding bells, with pink ribbons hanging from the clappers.

To the strains of Lohengrin's march played by Miss Buntach of Anaheim, the bridal party walked to a position under the arch of greenery. Two dainty little girls, sister and cousin of the bride, and dressed in white and taking the white ribbons attached to the bell clappers heralded the coming of the bride party. Then came Miss Emma Gerken, sister of the bride, charmingly dressed in pink, with a bouquet of pink cosmos accompanied by Alfred Cordes, brother of the bridegroom. They were followed by Miss Katie Cordes, sister of the bridegroom, prettily dressed in green, carrying a bouquet of green maidenhair ferns, and accompanied by Henry Henricks. Pretty little Dora Gerken, as flower girl, dressed in white, and carrying a basket filled with pink and white rose petals, preceded the bride couple.

The bride was radiantly beautiful, dressed in soft cream colored silk, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and pearl trimming, with a graceful train and a filmy veil enwreathed with lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. She carried an artistic shower bouquet of white cranberry-mums, dear to the autumn bride. The groom was dressed in conventional black. After taking their places beneath the arch, with Rev. W. J. Lusk officiating, the two were made man and wife. The impressive ring ceremony was used. About two hundred friends and relatives witnessed the wedding.

As soon as congratulations were over the bridal party left for Hickox's studio, where a group picture and a picture of the bride couple was taken. While the wedding was taking place a number of friends had decorated the automobile with all the articles characteristic of a popular wedding and this caused not a little excitement when the party left to have their pictures taken.

They then returned to the home of Mr. Cordes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cordes of Anaheim, where a bountiful wedding luncheon was served. It was served at a long table in the spacious porch which had been elaborately decorated with ferns, wedding bells, and little pink Cupids, the original color scheme being carried out. The handsome bride's cake was a feature of the luncheon and each guest was anxious to secure a piece of it. The bride and groom were pleasantly showered with rice upon their arrival and the remainder of the afternoon and evening was spent in gaiety. Singing, music of all sorts, and games, were indulged in until twelve, when a wedding supper was served on a charmingly decorated table.

The bride and bridegroom returned to Santa Ana and on Friday morning left for a ten days' wedding trip to San Diego. The bride's going-away suit was dark blue, with accessories to match. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Cordes will reside on their ranch in West Anaheim.

Mr. Cordes is well known in Orange county, being a native born daughter. She has lived in Santa Ana during the past year and has many friends here who wish her great happiness during her wedded life.

The young couple received many handsome and useful wedding gifts from their new home.

DICTATORSHIP PROCLAIMED BY HUERTA

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13.—President Huerta has issued a decree that he has assumed all the powers hitherto vested in the congress that he suspended last week, in military, financial affairs. He said he would handle them personally. The department of justice will be permitted to continue in authority so long as it interferes with none of his decrees. He has suspended the constitution insofar as it exempts members of congress from arrest and declared himself the supreme power in the land. His action amounts to a declaration of dictatorship, modified only by the promise that he will render an account of his actions to the government to be elected on October 26.

AMUSEMENTS

A splendid bill of three new acts will be seen at the Auditorium Theatre tonight, featuring the great Bellefonte, who present one of the most sensational novelty acts known of its kind. They are headliners from the last bill at the Hippodrome Theatre in Los Angeles. There will be one more good act, with four reels of up-to-date moving pictures.

For Speeding
Motorcycle Officer Ballard has arrested Tom Warner for riding a motorcycle on East Fourth street at a rate of twenty-eight miles an hour, and George Gates for driving an automobile on Chestnut avenue at thirty-five miles an hour. Warner paid City Recorder Willson $5, and Gates paid $10.

NURSERY STOCK ON NEWPORT HEIGHTS

Among Other Projects for That Section is Spineless
Cactus Farm

WEST NEWPORT, Oct. 13.—A $10,000 corporation has been formed here, headed by D. J. Dodge, for the purpose of buying all the necessary machinery for preparing the ground and taking care of young nursery stock, which is to be raised by the corporation on Newport Heights. The new company will have many different kinds of ornamental trees and shrubs on hand at all times and will make a specialty of planting and taking care of trees on the property of the residents on the heights.

The selling agency for the property in West Newport and Newport Heights has just been turned over to the H. L. McNew Company, by the Dan Rousseau Company, owner of the holdings. One of the first of the development ideas to be carried out by the new agents on Newport Heights will be the planting of ten acres of ground to the new Burbank spineless cactus. The property, when developed, will, it is announced, be subdivided and sold.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Digests
Food When Stomach Can't
—Cures Indigestion

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so that you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.—Adv.

PANAMA CANAL WILL HAVE EFFICIENCY OF ONE-FOURTH ITS CAPACITY, SAYS RUSSELL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12.—Speaking at the "Temple" from the text, "Clean hands and a pure heart" (Psalm 24:4-5), Pastor Russell said:

God alone is the judge of heart purity and clean hands. Human judgment is liable to error. Lack of charity has oft branded good as evil—as dishonesty or carelessness. For instance, it is no fault of the able engineers that the Panama Canal will have an efficiency of only one-fourth of its intention and capacity. The waters of Gatun Lake should have been sufficient to supply the locks, according to statistics. The fact that the rainfall has been decreasing during the past five years could not be foreseen by man any more than could the blessed increase of rain in Palestine. The world is in the midst of great climatic changes, which, with the increase of knowledge God is pouring upon us, are preparations for Messiah's Kingdom.

Yet, when the facts reach the public, disappointment will lead some to charge that the needed additional hundred millions of dollars for pumps or additional dams were foreseen and is merely a craft—unclean hands and dishonest hearts.

Let us rather "render honor to whom honor is due." And even though the greater temptations of our day and its brighter searchlights of publicity show impure hearts and unclean hands where unsuspected, let us not lose faith in humanity. While the Bible tells us that perfection will not be fully attained until the close of the millennium, let us have confidence that even now there are thousands of pure hearts and clean hands. Loss of faith in our fellows is one of the serious omens of our day, boding evil to our civilization.

Sound Education in Finland

In the rudiments of a sound education the Finnish people are unsurpassed. Practically every man and woman in the country has a working knowledge of reading, writing, and arithmetic, and every child of school age receives careful instruction in these studies. Every adult has a vote, and although 53 per cent of the inhabitants are women there are only seventeen of their sex in the Finnish diet.

WOMEN WHO GET DIZZY

Every woman who is troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, backache, headache, nervousness, debility, constipation or kidney troubles should use Electric Bitters. They give relief when nothing else will, improve the health, adding strength and vigor from the first dose. Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., says: "Four doctors had given me up and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a world of good. Just try them. 50c and $1.00 at all druggists or by mail, H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

Makes Buildings 30 Degrees Cooler

On a hot summer day the temperature in the upper part of a building covered with J-M Asbestos Ready Roofing is from 15 to 30 degrees cooler than with any other roofing. The white asbestos surface reflects the heat instead of absorbing it and transmitting it to the rooms below.
This is only one of the exclusive features of

J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING

Besides making a building cooler in summer and warmer in winter, it is the only ready roofing that never needs painting. J-M Asbestos is also the only ready roofing that is fire-proof.

SCHOOL SONGSTERS TO BEGIN REHEARSALS

The Sales Booth of the School to Have No Competition
on Grounds

(By Bruce Wallace)

Meetings of both boys' and girls' glee clubs have been called and plans for immediate rehearsals have been made. The interest in music is steadily increasing, and if enough boys are willing to try out, to justify the appointment of an instructor, a high school band will be added to the list of musical organizations immediately. The band will be a big boost to the school, for that is one point where Santa Ana is a little behind other schools. Many towns with smaller schools boast of a band in the routing section at their contests. The high school stand will soon begin business at some convenient point near the cafeteria. At a recent meeting the board of control prohibited all booths, except those conducted by the student body, at any of the high school activities, and barred all private stands from the high school grounds. Thus rid of competition, the stand should bring in better returns than last year, when it was a decided success for the short time it was in operation.

The student body decided Thursday to adopt a school pin which shall be the recognized emblem of the entire school. The students have never had a universal pin, although many have worn pins, or tabs, of their own selection, with the initials or monogram.

The board of control and the various athletic managers are to meet jointly this week to decide on some system of season tickets. The season ticket proposition brings out many students to the games who would not otherwise be present. Some institutions use a single tax system, where each student is admitted to all the contests of the year upon payment of his tax. Others sell tickets at a reduced price, if a number are taken. This plan was used in Santa Ana last year. The season ticket idea usually puts the athletics of a high school on a sounder financial basis as the cash is on hand at the beginning of the season, when the tickets are sold.

Edward Stuart, who attended the local high school last year, played full back on the South Pasadena team last Saturday, when they defeated Venice, 19 to 0. Stuart has been elected debating manager at South Pasadena. He represented Santa Ana at the Pomona Oratorical contest last year, winning third place.

Coach Hall called a meeting Thursday of all the boys interested in basketball. Practice will begin as soon as the court, now being laid off on the new athletic field, is finished.

CANAL TO REVOLUTIONIZE TRADE

"So far as the world is concerned, the greatest effect of the opening of the Panama canal will probably be to get commerce and trade out of the groove, and cause an all-round modernization of business methods. The old will have to be scrapped, friction among the factors of production will have to be eliminated, capital and labor in connecting countries will have to learn to work harmoniously together. Socially and economically this will effect a very good result. It is what America dreamed of when she entered upon this stupendous undertaking."

This is the view taken of the great waterway across the isthmus by Professor Ad. W. Kirkaldy, one of the best known authorities on economic questions and professor of finance at Birmingham University. His views were embodied in a paper which he read before the British Association at a meeting in Birmingham. Continuing, he said:

"The canal will add enormously to the commercial facilities between the various regions of the American continent and the adjacent islands, hence important developments may be expected. The West India islands will enter upon a new period of prosperity, especially when the internal combustion engine takes the place of steam and oil replaces coal. English business and fiscal methods will have a great effect on making the West Indies important to shipping, and thus assist the development of local industries, especially the export of raw material. The comparatively unprogressive states of Central and South America will undergo remarkable developments owing to increased immigration of Europeans and increased trade. These local benefits will be the chief, and ample, justification for the construction of the canal."

Of the effect on world trade he said: "America realizes the importance of the canal trade to the United Kingdom; there will be a strenuous attempt to displace British coal throughout the world in order to give American shipping the advantages at present enjoyed by the British. If successful this will deal a mortal blow at our mercantile marine. Thus the British coal industry must realize the situation, and both the capital and labor interested resolve to hold the market at all costs until the fuel question—coal or oil—is finally settled."

"The published scheme of tolls which frees American coasting ships raises an international question. If the canal be worked on business principles, higher tolls will be exacted from other shipping; this will either cause a grievance, or decrease the tonnage using the canal. The question might be made domestic instead of international if America charged equal tolls to all, and gave bounties to such shipping as it wishes to favor."

"Taking London and New York as the typical European and American ports, the markets of the world fall into three classes—(1) Countries in close proximity to the canal; here the effect will be greatest and, in many cases, the use of the canal a necessity.

(2) Australasia and the Far East. At present there is a choice of routes to these markets; Panama will offer another alternative. (3) Ports not directly affected.

Class 2 is receiving most attention from those estimating the effects on world trade. There is a parallel equidistant from London via Suez and from New York via Panama. On the South Coast of Australia this is Port Lincoln, Adelaide being the nearest great port. All Asiatic ports west of Japan will continue to be nearer to London, e. g., Manila will be 2,000 miles nearer. But all Japanese and New Zealand ports and all Australian ports east of Adelaide will be nearer New York.

Tolls.—Panama differs from Suez here. Suez has an immediate monopoly; with Panama there is in many instances a choice of routes, and high tolls will deflect tonnage.

"Freights.—To benefit American shipping freight must be available both out and home. To benefit American manufacturers freights must be low. At present, Europe supplies Australasia with manufactured goods, and the shipping goes via Suez. This route gives a maximum of trading possibilities and great facilities for coaling. The Cape route, too, offers to fully loaded steamships the advantage of cheap bunker coal. For the homeward bound voyage from Australasia a partly loaded steamship goes via the Horn to pick up cargo at ports like Monte Video. The canal would not attract these ships. When Panama is open will all-round-the-world services be organized? Great Britain is in a better position to do this than any other country. The rumors current recently that an existing shipping combine was trying to arrange an amalgamation with one of the oldest Far Eastern shipping companies were probably due to the hope of being able to commence such a service, having some of the chief trades of the world as tributaries, from the moment that Panama is available. America hopes to open up new markets, e. g., wool. This now concentrates at London, but there is a tendency toward decentralization, and if America develops the wool industry, she will get a wool market without necessarily constructing a Panama canal.

"Fuel stations.—This will be one of the decisive factors, and lead to the keenest commercial rivalry. The American government is planning to supply good coal at either end of the canal at 19s. per ton. The English coal on the Suez route is at present much dearer; to maintain the Suez route in its integrity the supply of cheaper coal is a necessity. When oil replaces coal the British Empire resources will be ample to maintain our commercial position, but this must not in the meantime be placed in jeopardy, or disaster may ensue."

"The political factor.—The working of the Imperial ideal in Great Britain, America, and Germany should be noted. Preferences granted by the Dominions have materially assisted British trade. The possession of the Philippines has displaced Spain from the position of chief trader there in favor of America. The importance of this factor can be traced in the case of Japan, and China, when settled government comes, will be another notable instance."

Santa Ana will compete once with each of the schools in the Orange County Athletic League, Anaheim, Fullerton, Huntington Beach and Orange. The two schools with the highest percentage will then play a three-game series for the county championship. The previous game played between them to count as the first game of the series.

Interest in basketball has never been the best in Santa Ana, but now that basketball has a coach whose time is not taken up with football, the students are beginning to treat it more as a game that should be placed among the first class athletics of the school. Monograms have not been given to the members of the basketball team in the past, but they are promised if enough interest is taken in the game to make the players work for their positions. Members of last year's team who will report for practice are Harold Swift, Ralph Jayne, Ernest Plavan and John Criddle.
